The Herald mildly remarks that as "Peg Woffington she displayed sprightliness, taste and true comedy power;" but the Times finds it difficult to imagine anything more unsympathetic than her presence and delivery, and is ungallant enough to say that she is neither young nor handsome, winding up with, "her personation had the excellences of a first-rate amateur effort, which are equivalent to well informed persons that the financial liams, fpantry keeper; Charles Ward and those of a fourth-rate professional essay," while the World critic is more tender in his treatment of her, calling " it "a reasonable success," and suggesting that she might do better in some role adapted to her qualifications.

Longstreet's resignation, declines, for the reason that he has no expression or intimation from the board that a place would be made for another Conservative member, placing the party he should represent on something like an equality with that of its contestants, and not having been requested by the Execu-tive Committee of the Democratic and Conservative party to act in such capacity. The Returning Board met at 11 A. M. Hunsacker, of St. James, Republican candidate for the Legislature, desired to be informed whether returns had not been received from St. James parish. Railway Flends St. Louis, Nov. 17 .- The Evening Dispatch has a special from Belleville, Ills. stating that a coal train on the Cairo Short Line Railroad collided about three o'clock this morning with an empty coal car, which had been run out on the main track. Examination also revealed that a large stick of timber had been fastened to the track, just over a cattle guard near by. It is believed these obstructions were placed on the track by the striking miners, the one to wreck the train, which was laden with coal, dug by non-society men, and the gon other to ditch an empty train going south after coal. Nobody was hurt.

Secretary Cox Reversed.

Washington, Nov. 17.—Under a Congressional joint resolution of 1869, five citizens were appointed to examine into the condition of the Union and Central Pacific Railways, who reported that about two million dollars would be necessary to supply the deficiencies of both roads. Secretary Cox at that time, directed the Com-missione:s of the General Land Office, to withhold from them one-half of the land grant as security for the supply of the de-ficiencies of the road. The reports of the Commissioners, who recently examined the roads, say the Union Pacific has, since that period, expended $2,215,000, and the Central Pacific expended $5,500,000, in ex-cess of the sum first named. The deficien-cies having been supplied and the roads considered as complete, reports were sub-mitted by the Secretary of the Interior to the President, who, on the recommendation of the Secretary, has directed a revocation of the order of Secretary Cox, withholding patents for half of the lands, which will herefore be released to those companies.

The Government Burglars-Judge Humphreys Orders the Release of Hays and His Bondsmen.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17 .- The trial of the alleged safe burglary conspirators was resumed this morning. The judge directed the jary to retire, and then inquired if Hays was in court. Riddle informed the court that Hays went to New York Saturday. Judge Humphreys said he had fully considered the subject, and had written out his statement, which he would submit. He then recited the circumstances of the unprecedented. He claimed this court had sole jurisdiction of the case and had entire control over Hays. These remarks were made to show the enormity of the proceedings and that the offense was almost withproceedings as a nullity and order the reease of Hays and his bondsmen, and thus wipe out this attempt at obstruction to wards getting at the full facts in this case. Five bodies have been recovered, including the Captain's eldest daughter, about seventeen years of age, and Mr. Frisble, a well known plantation engineer. Capt Jungfran lost four children, but saved his wife and baby, who with him, but saved his wife and baby, who with him, were sleeping in the texas. D. A. Parrett, passenger, who escaped from the sinking steamer, gives the opinion that the boat was overloaded and parted in the center. The Empire was built at Algiers about three years ago and valued at about $31,000. She had on board 169 hogsheads of sugar besides a large number of barrels of molasses and a quantity of wine. It is impossible at present to set the actual number of lives at present to get the actual number of lives lost, as the books and papers of the boat are under the texas.

Capt. Jungfrau states the Empire had only a fair cargo; was not overloaded, and that the guards were well above the water. At the time of her sinking he was awakened by a great noise, and in the confusion caught one of his children and awam with it to the shore. He saw his wire standing on deck with the babe in her arms. As the boat went down she clung to the wheelbouse of the Bradley Johnson which stood alonside, but the violent shock wrenched from her grasp her child, who fell in the water and was drowned.
